RICHARDSON'S DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE,
Parts 19 and 20, this day published.
There is not a work, either of general practical utility, or of philology in particular, that has so largely united the suffrages of the public press in its favor, as this Dictionary. Both in Europe and in America it has received the merit of a general approbation. The compiler has assumed the principle of Home Tooke, that each word had originally but one meaning, and that all the needful of combination, or the mutability to which language itself is subject. In the plan of this Dictionary the Compiler has adopted the rule which Dr. Johnson originally proposed for his own government, viz that of giving first the primitive or radical, then the consequential, and afterwards the metaphorical, accompanying his definitions by quotations, commencing with the earliest authorities, and bringing them down to the most recent dates. Mr. Richardson has performed his task with fidelity and skill, his researches have been most laborious as well as judicious, and he has bestowed, in this work a boon on literature greater than any that has been presented since the days of Lexicon mixed.

☞ The publication of this work which was suspended in consequence of the pressure upon the mercantile world is now resumed, and the work being stereotyped will be completed in a few weeks.
WILLIAM JACKSON, 102 Broadway.
E. F. DUREN, Bangor, is Agent for the work.

24 Whigs 15 Loco Focos Whig Gain 14.

One more district (14th) to be heard from. This district is Silas Wright's home and the result is doubtful. The 17 towns from which returns have been received show a Whig gain of 500.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.

The Atlas publishes the returns of votes for Governor from 205 towns, which stand, Everett 40,000 Morton 32,715. Majority for Everett 8183. There are about 100 towns to be heard from. The Boston Patriot says that the Whigs "notwithstanding the embarrassments arising from division in relation to the license law, have generally held their ground, while the Van Buren party, having made a vigorous effort, have about equalled their vote in 1836. The State overall is again Whig in all its branches."

The Boston Atlas is of opinion that the Whig majority for Governor will be from 10,000 to 12,000 "that a far greater portion, if not the whole Senate will be composed of staunch, true and patriotic Whigs, and that the Whig majority in the popular branch of the Legislature will be so great, that the Locofocos in that body will hardly be of sufficient importance to be placed on the muster roll."

In Boston, only four Senators and twenty Representatives are chosen, consisting of those who were on both the Convention and the Faneuil Hall tickets. The others fall about 200 votes short of a majority.

Messrs. Fletcher, Calhoun, Hastings, Reed, Saltonstall, Adams, Cushing, and Lincoln, all Whigs, and Henry Williams, locofoco, are elected to Congress. Mr. Williams is probably the only Van Buren man elected in the State. Messrs. Parmenter, A. H. Everett and Rantoul, having been defeated. In the 4th, there is no choice. The 6th and 7th not heard from.

We thought it "glory enough" for the Whigs to have carried New York city, the very citadel of Martin Van Buren, which was claimed by his party there, up to the day of election, by a thousand majority, but to have carried the State, by such an overwhelming vote the Legislature and Congressmen too, greatly magnifies the importance of the victory, and is certainly an occasion for increased joy and thankfulness.

Upon the auspicious result of this election, the New York Commercial remarks: "We cannot forbear the congratulating of our friends throughout the Union. It is a triumph of principle of elevated moral as well as political principle which will go far, very far, to revive the drooping spirits of those thousands of patriots who have begun to look upon the republic as one the days of which were numbered. It is a triumph for which our thanks should be devoutly given to that Being in whose hands are the destinies of nations, as well as of men. [illegible] Let the light but [illegible] a great [illegible] in [illegible] throughout this republic [illegible] the British [illegible] Thus shall the last [illegible] the dark days of the [illegible] when [illegible] darkness [illegible] If at the end of our [illegible] we shall have [illegible] in the [illegible] and that [illegible] in vain."

PREDICTION.

"We [illegible] whisper a hope that Marcy is re-elected by a majority of thousands." Bangor Democrat, Nov. 8.

The above is the prediction of the Democrat before the result of the election was known here. "Let the reader compare the above announcement with the result of the election. Who is to be believed? Who deceives their readers?"

RESULT.

Marcy is defeated by a "majority of thousands," and Seward is elected by a majority of thousands."

PREDICTION.

"We have full faith that the principal and auxiliary federal [Whig] forces have experienced a general rout" in New York. Bangor Democrat.

RESULT.

The Whig forces have triumphed, and the Loco Focos "have experienced a general rout" "Who deceives their readers?"

ASSERTION.

"Another Victory. IOWA TERRITORY. Col. Engle has been elected Delegate to Congress over Judge Chapman. Engle was the democratic candidate. Thus the ball is kept rolling. Bangor Democrat.

FACT.

The official returns, published in the Iowa Gazette, give Chapman (Whig) 1490; Engle (Loco) 1454; Wallace 913; Morer 605. The Gazette says that the Governor has given Chapman the certificate. Thus the Loco Foco ball is stopped.

☞ Messrs. Shaw & Merrill and Albert Dole, of this city, received a silver medal each, for specimens of Cabinet work exhibited at the late Fair in Portland.

☞ Decker, who made his escape from the States Prison at Thomaston, on the 7th, returned on the morning of the 10th and begged to be admitted.

CANADA.

Mr. C. G. BRYANT, who has issued the following Proclamation, is well known in this city, having formerly resided here.

PROCLAMATION.

Patriot Camp, Colwell's Manor, Nov. 5th, 1838.

Head Quarters of Missiskoui and Richelieu Division.

The oppressed inhabitants of Lower Canada having suffered for more than half a century the iron yoke of despotism from their cruel and haughty conquerors, have determined to make one more effort to rid themselves of their bloody and vindictive task-masters, and to change their form of government from a miserable Colonial vassalage to a free and independent republic.

Having for years humbly petitioned the haughty monarchs of Great Britain, and, also the Imperial Parliament, for a redress of their grievances, and having remonstrated with the several Departments of the Home Government against their usurpations and oppressions, and having warned the people of the United Kingdom that their sufferings must, if not redressed, at length drive them to the last resort, their prayers, remonstrances, and warnings, being unheard, or only answered by more unnatural and cruel oppression and debasement, their last vestige of liberty being destroyed by the annulling of their constitutional rights, their trial by jury, the suspension of the Habeas Corpus, and the declaration of Martial Law, and by having a petty tyrant appointed to rule over them, with unlimited power, disposing by proclamation of the lives and liberties of the people without law, or trial of any form. Such cruelties and indignities are insufferable by any people, and appealing to God and an enlightened world, they have taken up arms as their last and only resort, and trusting in the righteousness of their cause, they are resolved never to relinquish their efforts to sever their connection from Great Britain, and establish for themselves an Independent and Liberal Government, securing equal rights to all conditions and classes in the land.

The Canadians, without a blush, ask the sympathies of the citizens of the United States. When your fathers were fighting the unequal battle for independence, which has secured you the glorious republican institutions which you now enjoy, our ancestors stepped nobly forward and espoused your cause, and by their assistance of men and munitions of war, you were enabled to battle with the same haughty nation which is now grinding to the dust the bleeding victims and liberty seeking Patriots of Canada. Come, then, to our assistance, ye sons of noble sires, rally beneath the banner of Freedom which is now unfurled in Canada, and assist, with your arms, our suffering country. Show your love of constitutional and universal liberty by uniting yourselves with the Patriot army of Canada. Your sacrifices and services will be most liberally rewarded, and you will enjoy the rich reward in after days of having your names handed down to posterity as examples like Lafayette, Pulaski, De Kalb, Steuben, and other worthies of the American Revolution, who left their own native land to fight in the good cause of freedom for a worthy but suffering people.

LATER AND MORE DREADFUL NEWS.

The simultaneous tolling of the bells aroused us from our pillow, last night, to hear the rehearsal of the most barbarous atrocities. The following letters which were read before the meeting which speedily assembled in the Court House, embody the principle facts as succinctly, perhaps, as any language which we could substitute; and we hence submit them without further comment than that the authors are gentlemen of the first respectability. The meeting last night adjourned to meet again at 9 this morning, for the purpose of organizing, and marching this evening or to morrow.

SNOWDEN'S Oct. 25, 1838.

Col. JONES, Sir: News has just reached us here that the Mormons have attacked and cut to pieces Capt. Digges' company of 50 men, except 3 or 4, who have escaped. They say the Mormon force is 300 or 400. Richmond is in great confusion. [illegible] two or three companies of troops and repair to Rich[illegible] with all speed.

Yours in [illegible]
GEO. WOODWARD,
Aid to General Parks.

[illegible], Oct. 25, 1838.

Gen. [illegible] Mormons have risen [illegible] and have [illegible] all his [illegible] in Caldwell county, has attacked and cut to pieces by ambushes a [illegible] of U. S. [illegible] overpowered by the Mormons, while they were guarding their own frontier. But 5 minutes ago, three reports of a cannon were heard in the direction of Richmond. Firing has been heard in various directions, and there is no doubt that these infuriated villains have attacked Richmond.

The news of their burning and pillage has already reached you. They have indubitably captured the cannon, and taken many prisoners, probably killed many. Davies county is a scene of desolation. Ray is probably so ere this time, and their next movement will be at this place. It is already threatened.

Be up and doing. Bring all the men you can, and let us check them in their course of destruction and devastation. They are moving on with giant strides to the climax of anarchy, civil war, and desolation. Wolf and Baker will explain all. I have just received orders by express from Brig. Gen. Parks, to raise 150 mounted men. Fifty I have volunteered, and the remainder I will obtain in a day or two.

Rise the people up in Howard and Chariton. Send all the braves you can with Wolf, and we can meet and check them in their mad career.

Yours in haste,
WM CLAUDE JONES.

ON THE MARRIED STATE, &c.

[Concluded from yesterday.]

RULES FOR WIVES.

I. Always receive your husband with smiles, leaving nothing undone to render home agreeable, endeavoring to win, and gratefully reciprocating, his kindness and attention.

II. Study to gratify his inclinations in regard to food and cookery; in the management of the family; in your dress, manners and deportment.

III. Never attempt to rule, or appear to rule, your husband. Such conduct degrades husbands and wives always partake largely in the degradation of their husbands.

IV. In every thing reasonable, comply with his wishes, with cheerfulness and even, as far as possible, anticipate them.

V. Avoid all altercations or arguments leading to ill humor, and more especially before company. Few things are more disgusting than the altercations of the married, when in the company of friends or strangers. There is one kind of conduct which is almost as revolting as this, but not of frequent occurrence that is, a display of fondness before company. There is a time and place for all things.

VI. Never attempt to interfere in his business unless he ask your advice and counsel; and never attempt to control him in the management of it.

VII. Never confide to gossips any of the failings or imperfections of your husband, nor any of those little differences which occasionally arise in the married state. If you do, you may rest assured that, however strong the injunctions of secrecy on the one hand, or the pledge on the other, they will in a day or two become the common talk of the neighborhood.

VIII. Avail yourself of every opportunity to cultivate your mind, so as, should your husband be intelligent and well informed, you may join in rational conversation with him, and his friends.

IX. Think nothing beneath your attention that may produce even a momentary breach of harmony, or the slightest uneasy sensation.

"Think naught a trifle, though it small appear,
Small sands the mountain, moments make the year,
And trifles life. Your care to trifles give,
Else you may die ere you have learn'd to live."

Young.

X. If your husband be in business, always, in your expenditures, bear in mind the various vicissitudes to which trade and commerce are subject; and do not expose yourself to the painful self-reproach, should he experience one of them, of having unnecessarily expended money of which you and your offspring may afterwards be in extreme want.

XI. While you carefully shun, in providing for your family, the Scylla of meanness and parsimony, avoid equally the Charybdis of extravagance, an error too common in the United States; as remarked by most of the travellers who visit this country.

XII. If you be disposed to economize, I beseech you not to extend your economy to the wages you pay to seamstresses or washerwomen, who are too frequently ground to the earth by the inadequacy of the wages they receive. Economize, if you will, in shawls, bonnets, and handkerchiefs; but never, by exacting labor from the poor without adequate compensation, incur the dire anathemas pronounced in the Scriptures against the oppressor of the poor.

"Ye fair married dames, who so often deplore
That a lover once blest is a lover once more,
Attend to my counsel nor frown to be taught
That prudence must cherish what beauty has caught.

"The bloom of your cheek, and the glance of your eye,
Your roses and lillies, may make the men sigh:
But roses and lillies and sighs pass away;
And passion will die as your beauties decay.

"Use the man whom you wed like your fav'rite guitar;
Though there's music in both, they're both apt to jar.
How tuneful and soft from a delicate touch!
Not handled too roughly nor play'd on too much!

"The sparrow and linnet will feed from your hand;
Grow tame by your kindness, and come at command.
Exert with your husbands the smile happy skill,
For hearts, like your birds, may be tamed at your will.

"Be gay and good humored, complying, and kind,
Turn the chief of your care from your face to your mind.
'Tis thus that a wife, by no conquest impaired,
And Hymen will rivet the fetters of Love."

Garrick.

GENERAL RULES

FOR HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

I. Should differences arise between husband and wife, let the sacred and invariable rule be, not as it unfortunately too frequently is, who shall display the most spirit, and play the despicable character of Mr. and Mrs. Bullen, but who shall make the first advances; which ought to be met more than half way. This is a cardinal rule, which, if religiously observed, by both parties, can hardly fail to secure perennial happiness. There is [illegible] more prolific source of unhappiness in the married state, than this so-called spirit, the legitimate offspring of odious pride and folly.

II. Perhaps the whole art of happiness in the married state might be very distinctly comprised in the "Fear and Love" [illegible] husband treat his wife, and the wife her husband, [illegible] the attention [illegible] a lady, and [illegible] gentleman.

III. I trust much attention [illegible] against flirtations, will be united [illegible] the husband or wife of the party who indulges in them, and to give [illegible] it is [illegible] minister to [illegible] It is unfortunate, [illegible] the most [illegible] of misconduct [illegible] produces [illegible] scandal and evil [illegible] the reality.

"Trifles, light as air,
Are, to the jealous, confirmation strong
As proofs from holy writ."

IV. Have a good [illegible] of reason and common sense, that we should not only be, but appear to be, scrupulously correct in our conduct. And, be it observed, that, however pure and innocent the purposes of the party may be, at the commencement, [illegible] Men leads to disastrous results. It [illegible] certainly, [illegible] and certainly, breaks down some of the guards that hedge round innocence. The parties in these cases are not inaptly compared to the moth fluttering around a lighted candle, unaware of the impending danger. It suddenly burns its wings, and is thus mutilated for life. "He that loveth the danger, shall perish therein." "Lead us not into temptation," is a wise prayer; and while we pray not to be "led into temptation," we most assuredly ought not to lead ourselves into it. I know these remarks will be charged to the account of prudery, but, at the risk of that charge, I cannot withhold them.

V. Avoid all reference to past differences of opinion, or subjects of altercation that have at a former day excited uneasiness. Remember the old story of the blackbirds and the thrushes "I swear they were blackbirds." "But I vow they were thrushes," &c. &c. Remember, also, the pithy scene in the little farce styled "Three Weeks after Marriage."

The preceding rules, if as closely followed as human imperfection will allow, can hardly fail to secure happiness. Even should only out of every ten readers profit by them, and I should fondly hope that four out of five would, I shall be amply repaid for their concoction.

I cannot conclude this brief essay better than by adding the following admirable advice of Julie de Roubigné to her daughter, shortly previous to her death.

"Sweetness of temper, affection to a husband, and attention to his interests, constitute the duties of a wife, and the basis of matrimonial felicity. These are, indeed, the texts from which every rule for attaining this felicity is drawn. The charms of beauty, and the brilliancy of wit, though they may captivate in the mistress, will not long delight in the wife. They will shorten even their own transitory reign, if, as I have seen in many wives, they shine more for the attraction of every body else than of their husbands. Let the pleasing of that one person be a thought never absent from your conduct. If he love you as you wish he should, he would bleed at heart should he suppose it for a moment withdrawn; if he do not, his pride will supply the place of love, and his resentment that of suffering.

"Never consider a trifle what may tend to please him. The greater articles of duty he will set down as his due; but the lesser attentions he will mark as favors; and trust me, for I have experienced it, there is no feeling more delightful to one's self, than that of turning these little things to so precious a use.

"Above all, let a wife beware of all communicating to others any want of duty or tenderness she may think she has received in her husband. This untwists, at once, those delicate cords which preserve the unity of the marriage engagement; its sacredness is broken forever, if third parties are made witnesses to its feelings, or umpires of its disputes."

"Ye fair, possess'd of ev'ry charm
To captivate the will,
Whose smiles can rage itself disarm,
Whose frowns almost can kill
Say, will ye deign the verse to hear,
Where flatt'ry bears no part—
An honest verse that flows sincere
And candid from the heart?

"Great is your power; more firmly yet
Mankind it might engage,
If, as ye all can make a net,
Ye all could make a cage,
Each nymph a thousand hearts may take:
—For who's to beauty blind?
But to what end a pris'ner make,
Unless we've strength to bind?

"Attend the counsel, often told,
—Too often told in vain!
Learn that best art, the art to hold
And lock the lover's chain.
Gamesters to little purpose win,
Who lose again as fast;
Though beauty may the charm begin,
'Tis sweetness makes it last."

¶ "A great portion of the wretchedness which has often embittered married life, I am persuaded, has originated in the neglect of trifles. Connubial happiness is a thing of too fine a texture to be handled roughly. It is a plant which will not even bear the touch of unkindness; a delicate flower, which indifference will chill, and suspicion blast. It must be watered with a shower of tender affection, expanded with a glow of attention, and guarded by the impregnable barrier of unshaken confidence. Thus matured, it will bloom in every season of life, and sweeten even the loneliness of declining years."

‡ The story here referred to, though probably a drought on the imagination, bears a strong analogy to occurrences that occasionally take place in families, and at all events, is strongly admonitory. The story is as follows. Let it pass for what it is worth: A sportsman brought home a brace of birds, and handing them to his wife, said, "My dear, let these blackbirds be dressed for dinner." "Blackbirds!" says she, "why the man is mad! you amaze me! they are thrushes." "What," replies he, "have I been half my life fowling, and am I unable to distinguish between a blackbird and a thrush?" "If you had been fowling your whole life, I am as good a judge of birds as you, and I vow they are thrushes." He swore they were blackbirds; and, finally, he became so completely angered, that he was ruffian enough to use a cane to her. She ran out of the house to a neighbor's for the night. Next morning she returned home, and halcyon days succeeded till the anniversary of the explosion. On that day, she leaned lovingly on his shoulder, smiled in his face, and said soothingly: "Now, my dear, it is just a twelvemonth since you used me so cruelly about those miserable birds, and you knew in your heart they were thrushes." He swore again they were blackbirds; she vowed they were thrushes, and the former scene was renewed, and terminated as before. And, according to tradition, every anniversary was similarly celebrated.

OLMSTED'S PATENT STOVE.

THIS STOVE was invented and patented by Professor Olmsted of Yale College It was originally designed for study chambers but being found equally well adapted to family apartments it came immediately into extensive use among the inhabitants of New Haven and Hartford and further and elsewhere is rapidly increasing

It is at present made chiefly of SHEET IRON this material being esteemed on all accounts the the most eligible, but it may be constructed either wholly or in part of cast iron should that be preferred

The chief peculiarity of this stove consists of substituting for the open pipe usually employed to distribute the heat generated by anthracite coal an apparatus called a RADIATOR which although comparatively small dimensions, has an effect in absorbing and distributing the heat produced by coal equal to that of a very long pipe By this means the unsightly appearance of a stove pipe, traversing the apartment is avoided while the saving of material greatly diminishes the expense The Radiator consists of two concentric cylinders having a narrow space of half an inch to an inch between them through which the heated current is made to circulate in its passage from the chamber of combustion to the chimney The current thus brought CLOSE INTO CONTACT with the two contiguous surfaces, heating at once the outer and inner cylinder The former sends the heat into the apartment by direct radiation, the latter being open at the top and bottom causes a current of air to flow through it like the chimney of an Argand lamp The air within being rarefied by heat flows out in a continual current at the top while the colder air of the apartment flows in at the bottom and becomes heated in turn This adds greatly to the effect, contributing more indeed towards heating an apartment than the direct radiation from the surface and equalizing the temperature in a remarkable degree

The objects aimed at in the construction of this Stove are to be SIMPLE so that domestics can easily manage it, to be quickly kindled, to be capable of affording either a MILD or an INTENSE HEAT according to the state of the weather, to preserve the AIR of the apartment PURE AND WHOLESOME, to avoid all inconveniences from DUST, and finally to be CHEAP and ECONOMICAL

It is confidently believed that this stove fulfils as many of the conditions as any one now invented, and to a degree attainable only by an inventor like the present, long and intimately acquainted with the laws of heat

The CHAMBER STOVE is usually from 9 to 10 inches in diameter, and from 24 to 30 inches high Its position is commonly on the hearth or the usual place of the andirons The fireplace being closed up two pipes one from the back of each cylinder enters the wall thus formed, (or a sheet iron fire board) each pipe being furnished with a damper This variety is adapted to students rooms offices and particularly to NURSERIES affording as it does, peculiar facilities for warming liquids or medicinal preparations

The PARLOR STOVE has two radiators and is capable of warming the largest rooms in ordinary houses

The HALL STOVE is adapted to situations where a communication is made with a distant flue by means of a long pipe as in halls stores &c One ton of fine and half a ton of coarse coal is an adequate supply for the chamber stove for one season Two tons is a full allowance for the parlor stove when made of the usual dimensions

To be had only at No 6, Central Street

THIS most safe, effectual and scientific remedy for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been discovered.

These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance. Dr. Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the human system derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or in other words, an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile.

So well is this understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of digestion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state. Dr. Kingley is confident that the famous Hygean Theory, so called, that "impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases," is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complaint, the effect, and not the cause of the disease. When the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of bile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the bile, and to remedy it you must correct the secretion of the liver and restore it to a healthy state.

Dr. Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by benevolent than pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show.

Dr. Kingley flatters himself that his long experimenting with vegetable medicines has enabled him to discover the true and only substitute answering all the purposes of mercurials, without any of their attendant evils. One great quality of his family Pills is, that they have the alterative principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and bowels by purging, but they regulate the liver, change the morbid secretions, strengthen the digestive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system.

They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dose. They can be taken with safety by persons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are strengthened by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness, from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep.

The Family Pills are an invariable remedy for jaundice, sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia, costiveness, sickness of the stomach, heartburn, all bilious complaints, fevers of all kinds and if taken at the commencement will invariably check their progress, and save the patient from a protracted and dangerous sickness. They are invaluable in nervous and hypochondriacal affections, loss of appetite, and all complaints to which females alone are subject. They operate as a mild and speedy purge, and are a safe and certain remedy for worms in children.

I might publish a small volume of certificates but consider it unnecessary, as the medicine will recommend itself to all who will make trial of it.

JOHN KINGLEY,

These Pills are put up in neat boxes of two sizes, the small size contains 25 Pills, and the retail price is 25 cents, the large size contains 60 Pills, the price is 50 cents.

☞ PALMER & BLAKE have been appointed agents for the above pills for the New England States. Druggists and others can be supplied wholesale and retail, upon application to them at No. 44 Hanover street, Boston, or to J. E. LADD, Augusta, agent for the State of Maine. GENUINE BUFFALO OIL.

THE HAIR! THE HAIR! THE HAIR!

The greatest ornament to the human body is a splendid head of hair. It has recently been discovered that the genuine Buffalo Oil is a sovereign remedy for baldness, prevents the hair from coming off, promotes the growth, gives it the luxuriance, and improves the beauty. It is far superior to any other article of vegetable oil, and in case of fever, where the hair becomes dry and begins to fall off, there is no application more effectual in restoring its beauty and ordering it in healthy state.

It is put up at low price, (3, 1-2 cents) that all classes can have access to it. None genuine unless put up in fac simile wrapper, with Hair Oil impressed on the stamp. Also, to prevent imposition, it will be signed by the Proprietor, W. B. ... Virginia, corner of ... Street.

For sale in Bangor by G. W. Holden, and Whittier & Guild. In Portland by J. Durgin & Co. and Wm W. Lincoln, and by most of the wholesale Druggists in Boston. wepd1taw6w oct 24 1838

DR. FRANCIS' OCULUS-AQUA.

A Specific for Diseases of the Human Eye. ... restoring to the afflicted Dr. Francis' celebrated "Oculus Aqua." The Proprietor is conscientiously actuated by a sense of duty, and a feeling which tells him he will be the means of alleviating the sufferings of his fellow creatures.

This remedy is known—has been tried—and has succeeded, in cases where hope had fled, and where perpetual loss of vision was rapidly setting in. It has succeeded in cases where the Faculty of Medicine had declared the sufferer to be incurable. See Certificates.

The object of the Proprietor in thus openly and candidly placing the merits of Dr. Francis' remedy before the public, is that it may be known to all, and thus prove a balm of healing to the despairing and afflicted.

Francis' Oculus Aqua is adapted to all inflammatory diseases of the Eyes, even when in their most tedious and chronic stages—it is adapted to all kinds of nervous affections, inability to use the eyelids, weaknesses of sight, ophthalmias, &c. It will also remove, by a judicious course, those nebulous, scaly, dead looking appearances, frequently known by the name of "Cataracts."—Finally, all those inflammatory and nervous diseases with which the organs of vision are attacked, should immediately be treated by this inestimable remedy.

The Specific is put up in bottles, with complete directions for use. Advice is cheerfully given free of charge, at the Proprietor's house, where alone the Specific can be procured, in the city of N. York. Professional hours from 7 to 12 A. M. and from 2 to 5 P. M. 10 Barkley-street. June 12, 1838.

P. S. It has been thought adviseable to annex a few certificates from Gentlemen, whose station in life, respectability, piety, and acknowledged worth are sufficient vouchers for the accuracy of their statements. To make any comments on them would be alike insulting to the judgment of the reader, and the unblemished honor of the authors.

From the Rev. Mr. Davies, Pastor of the church at Bridgeville, N. Y. This is to certify that a gentleman with whom I am acquainted, who had been nearly blind for eight years, after expending several hundreds of dollars on various remedies, with a view to relieve himself, was at length prevailed on to try one bottle of Dr. Francis' remedy. To the astonishment and gratification of his friends, after using it, though a martyr for many years to this distressing malady, he recovered his eye sight, and speedily did he improve in it till he recovered his perfect vision!

Another case was that of a poor man, who spending nine months in the Eye Infirmary, was discharged by the physicians of the Institution, with what they termed an incurable cataract on one eye, so that he was nearly blind. A trial of Dr. Francis' remedy, however, (three bottles only being used by him) removed it, to the surprise of all who knew him and now he can see with that eye as well as he ever did! I feel it my duty to give this information for the benefit of the public.

The Rev. J. Harrison, 41 Thompson street, having procured a bottle of the above for Mrs. Harrison's eyes, says, "to his astonishment it has removed the dimness and pain which had been excessive for years; she had used many different eye waters, but they all failed. Therefore I hope the public will appreciate its value.

JOSEPH HARRISON."

Mrs. M'Caffrey, No 2 James street, widow of the late Dr. M'Caffrey, having used Dr. Francis' eye water, says, "I am happy to state it had the desired effect, and I can truly say saved me from absolute blindness, and I hope the public will soon know its value."

The Rev. Mr. Dunbar says "From the testimony of those who have used the eye water prepared by Dr. J. Francis, I have no hesitation in recommending it to the special notice of the public."

DUNCAN DUNBAR,
Pastor of the McDougal st church.

The Improved Enamelled EYES, inserted by Dr Isaac Francis, cannot be distinguished from the natural, and will perform every motion of that organ without giving the slightest pain.

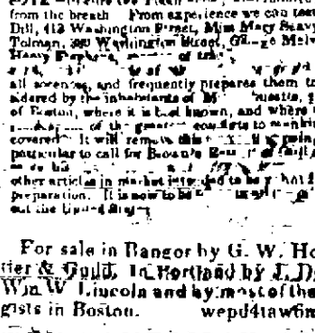
THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS



THE best medicine for Coughs, Colds, and all Lung complaints, Hooping Cough, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and affections of the Throat, is Mrs. M. N. GARDNER'S INDIAN BALSAM OF LIVERWORT, containing the strength of many roots and herbs. Among the number are Liverwort, Elecampane, Boneset, Asclepias tuberosa, Iceland Moss, Scullin, Hyssop, Rutabaga, also many other herbs not to be procured in this part of the globe. For the last ... years this valuable medicine has been in use in most of the principal towns in the Northern States, and, by the persuasion of those that have tested its efficacy, the Proprietor has made arrangements in most of the principal towns in the Northern States, and, by the persuasion of those that have tested its efficacy, the Proprietor has made arrangements in most of the principal towns in the Northern States, that all may avail themselves of this remedy, before the disease gets so seated that no medicine will remove it. Its effect on obstinate coughs is truly wonderful, and the following individuals voluntarily give their names as among the number who have proved its efficacy. From the knowledge of the materials, and the favorable effect upon our patients, where we have prescribed the above Balsam, we recommend it to be a valuable medicine for what it is recommended. Calvin Ellis, M. D., Albert Williams, M. D., members of the Massachusetts Medical Society. Also, see certificates on the direction, what astonishing cures it has effected for A. Webster, Boston, Horace Gill, Bristol, Mr. Thomas Hastings jr., Boston, Eleb Horton, firm of Baker & Horton, Boston, Daniel Wadsworth, clerk of Joseph Sprague, Miss L. Howard. Thousands of others could be named, where it is best known. As a security against counterfeits, each direction will be signed by the Proprietor, M. N. Gardner. Proprietor's residence 181 Washington Street, Boston, where all orders can be addressed. Also observe on the bottle, impressed in the glass, the name Mrs. N. Gardner's Indian Balsam of Liverwort.
